Announcement to the Singapore Exchange

UPDATE ON PATENT INFRINGEMENT LITIGATION ACTIVITY

LMA TO APPEAL PARTIAL NON-INFRINGEMENT ORDER IN U.S.
PATENT LITIGATION AGAINST AMBU FILED IN OCTOBER 2007

Mainboard-listed LMA International NV (“LMA”) would like to announce that the federal court of San Diego has found that three of the four supraglottic airway product families of Ambu A/S (“Ambu”) do not infringe LMA’s U.S. Patent No. 7,156,100. The court reasoned that the three product families, AuraOnce™, Aura40™ and AuraStraight™, lack a tube joint or the equivalent. These three product families constitute the majority of LMA’s damages claim against Ambu in the United States.

Dispositive motions on the fourth product family, AuraFlex™, and Ambu’s counterclaims are due on 14 August 2009. A trial on any disputed factual issues is currently scheduled to begin on 7 December 2009.

LMA respectfully disagrees with the court’s reading of the patent claims to require a tube joint and with the court’s infringement analysis.

LMA remains convinced of the merits of its claims and intends to appeal the order.
